

Search results for MONTSHODAW

MUSIC

MONTSHODAW – BLACK ROSE: THE RAP ARTIST WE NEVER KNEW WE WERE WAITING FOR

Posted on 24th April 2018

Any Hip Hop Rap artist who introduces their track with a violin will always get massive respect from me. The same old Trap rattles get pretty monotonous after a while, so I was delighted to hear that Montshodaw mixed it up in the prelude to his latest track Black Rose.

Montshodaw teamed up with sensational vocalist FlyMsCali to create his dope new drop which was his first ever single put out on the soundwaves. Where Montshodaw has been hiding out with all that talent before now I'm not sure yet keeping a style that slick a secret is nothing other than criminal. His alternative, experimental approach with his debut track Black Rose is certain to draw attention to his resounding style. The relentless rap flows are constantly switched up, never giving you a moment for you to get bored. In short Black Rose is a multi-layered riddle of resounding hookish drops and succinctly sweet breakdowns.

You don't want to miss out on Montshodaw's latest drop Black Rose, so head over to SoundCloud where you can check it out for yourselves.

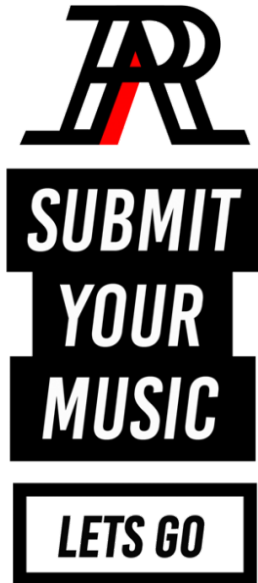

Review by Amelia Vandergast

ABOUT US

Since 2012, we have grown into one of the most respected artist and repertoire (A&R) blogs.

Our readership includes record labels, publishers, management companies, radio stations, pr and sync companies from across the world who use our website as a resource to discover and sign acts.

We are always on the look out for the next big hit so please submit your demo via our website.

TOP MUSIC BLOG 2018

AWARDS